

COMBATTING the PROPAGANDA 4

Question 4. Wouldn't it be fairer if every child went to a state school, thus eliminating all difference in opportunity?

No. Education standards would fall because there would be no competition. And democracy would suffer. Parents' rights would be denied.

An all-powerful state system would have free run, disseminating its own biased political values and agenda. This would no longer be a free country.

Previous

Close

Next